

C-BLADE

Macintosh blade

Designed by R. Macintosh in 1941, it's the most popular blade for the intubation of adult patients in normal conditions. The blade's curved shape allows sliding of the tip in the vallecula position and the wide flange helps keeping the tongue a side during intubation.

TECHNICAL DATA

C-blade size 4 DG05004A

